Commercial CPD Seminar

Monash University Law Chambers
555 Lonsdale Street, Melbourne

Civil Procedure Act 2010 – some important changes for practitioners

The introduction of the Civil Procedure Act 2010 (Vic) has been an important development in Victorian legal practice.

This Seminar explores two issues brought squarely into focus by the legislation.

First, the increasing prospect of costs orders being made against practitioners.

Second, the ethical issues raised for practitioners in matters where one party is a self represented litigant.

Chair

Justice David Harper AM, Court of Appeal, Supreme Court of Victoria.

Presenters

Justice James Judd of the Supreme Court of Victoria is the judge in charge of the Commercial Court.

Helen Symon SC is one of the most experienced taxation silks in Australia and regularly appears across all areas of commercial law.

Annette Hughes is a partner at Corrs Chambers Westgarth with extensive experience in product liability, corporate responsibility, regulatory and commercial litigation.

Barristers, solicitors and interested clients are encouraged to attend.
