

Industrial Relations Society of Victoria

Annual Student Function Careers in Industrial Relations (IR)

The Industrial Relations Society of Victoria (IRSV) invites all students interested in a career in industrial and employment relations to attend the IRSV “Careers in IR” Function. This is an annual event that focuses on raising awareness about career paths in industrial relations and related fields, and hearing the experiences of distinguished guests who have had vast and successful experience in Industrial Relations.

Where: Fair Work Commission, 11 Exhibition Street, Melbourne CBD.

When: Wednesday 18 September 2013 from 6pm - 8pm.

This year’s speakers are:

- Commissioner Leigh Johns – Commissioner, Fair Work Commission
- Dr Rosemary Kelly - Executive Officer, Medical Scientists Association of Victoria
- Amber Millhouse – Senior Associate, Seyfarth Shaw

This year’s speakers bring a great depth of knowledge with respect to their experience in the fields of industrial and employment relations.

This event is free and is open to students of all disciplines contemplating a career in the rewarding and exciting field of Industrial Relations or Employee Relations.

RSVP’s are to be emailed to irsv@alphalink.com.au, by the close of business on Monday, 16 September 2013. Alcoholic and non-alcoholic beverages and light snacks will be served.

The IRSV is an independent society dedicated to organising and fostering discussion, research, education and publication within the fields of industrial and employment relations and related areas of interest. The evening will discuss potential careers in IR/ER and the experiences of the Panel. The speakers will be pleased to answer any questions you may have on Industrial and Employment Relations generally as well as sharing insights from their wide and varied experience.

Make sure you book your spot for this opportunity to explore potential career paths and develop networks in the field.
