WHO WE ARE

We are four final semester students from IT faculty of Monash University, doing the industry related project throughout the whole semester. As a part of our project, we are gathering information related to social or common problems faced so we could meet them by preparing a solution which will bring value to the community.

WHAT WE ARE DOING

We are creating a website that aims to make the city of Melbourne more approachable to people. This website will show the useful information regarding the accessibility of buildings, public toilets, availability of accessible parking bays, the condition of road segments and etc. in order to help you make an informative decision when you would like to go out for an event. With the website, you can discover the missing opportunities in the city of Melbourne; you can plan your journey well by knowing the availability of accessible parking bays, steepness of footpaths, and other important information; even the website will provide the information regarding the legal and support options.

WHAT WE WANT FROM YOU

To understand your needs better and to make the website more valuable to you, we will really appreciate it if you could help us by filling out the short survey form by clicking the link below. Also, If you have interest in trying out our Beta application, please feel free to leave your contact details in the form. Also, we would like to have your consent regarding being filmed when you are participating in the usability test of the Beta app. Thank You for your time.
